OFFICERS AMBUSHED AND KILLED BY NEGROES

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Despite the peace of the day, the feeling of anxiety felt and expressed by many citizens appears at this hour—10:30 p. m.—to have been realized. Although only meager reports have been received, it is confirmed that three county policemen, riding along their beat in South Atlanta, near Clark University, a well-known negro college, were ambushed from an alley with the result that Policeman Heard and another officer—name not known—were killed and the third officer was shot fatally and is dying at the Grady Hospital.

Still another officer is reported missing. The policemen, who are mounted, with a squad of militiamen, are pursuing the negroes into the woods. The casualties on the other side are not known.

At Howell's Station, three miles west of the center of the city, the railroad operator has been killed, and another man in the same office either has been killed or wounded by negroes.

The city marshal of Edgewood was shot but not seriously hurt while trying to arrest a negro late this evening. Other similar rumors are heard, but lack confirmation.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25, 1 a. m.—Following the killing of Policeman Heard in South Atlanta tonight, the force which accompanied him and were not disabled in the fight pursued the negroes. They captured ten of the attacking party. Four escaped. Six were put aboard a street car under guard of the police and deputies, and started for the county jail in the center of town. As the car approached 491 Crews street a waiting mob stopped the car. Two of the prisoners, Sam McRaunder and Whey Brooks, made a bold dash for liberty. The mob caught them in the front yard of the home occupied, at the above number, by Mrs. R. C. Thompson, a highly respected white woman. The negroes were cut and beaten and left for dead. Mrs. Thompson, watching the exciting scene from the porch of her home, dropped dead from what is supposed to have been heart disease.

The police force succeeded in bringing the other four negroes to town and they are now locked up in the county jail.

Later it was discovered that McRaunder and Brooks are alive. They were brought to the city and are reported dying.

BANKER STENSLAND

ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 25.—Paul O. Stensland of Chicago, bank embezzler, who arrived from Tangier yesterday, was brought to this city at 6 o'clock tonight from Quarantine and locked up at police headquarters. He was taken to Chicago this morning.

Harry Olsen, Assistant State Attorney of Illinois, who accompanied Stensland, stated that the prisoner had made a confession to him while en route from Tangier.

Theodore Stensland, the banker's son, immediately afterward issued a statement, in which he said that his father would plead guilty to certain of the indictments charging violation of the Illinois State banking laws after he had examined the indictments. He would not plead guilty to forgery, but would reveal everything leading up to the wrecking of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, and in so doing would implicate other men prominent in the financial circles of Chicago.

He added that if there was a shortage of more than $400,000 in the accounts of the bank his father would prove that Cashier Hering was responsible for everything above that amount.

CORNERSTONE LAID WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

At the appointed hour of eleven, Tuesday, was begun by the Masons the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new Methodist church at corner of 14th street and Townsend Ave. Costing 11,000, this is the first pretentious church edifice to be erected in Ada.

Masons from neighboring towns were invited to participate. About fifty strong the members of the order formed line at their hall and marched to the scene of ceremonies, where already were gathered a large number of people. At northwest corner of the building, which is to be the main entrance, near its final resting place lay the stone, a most handsome piece of masonry, a perfect cube of white marble inscribed on one exposed side:

"First M. E. Church, South, 1906
Rev. T. L. Rippey, Pastor."
on the other "Building Committee: J. W. Hays, Frank Jones, John W. Beard, T. L. Rippey."

Hon. Henry M. Furman officiated in the ceremonies. Pastor Rippey read a brief sketch of the progress of the church from its establishment in 1895, through its earlier struggles and later achievements, up to its present flourishing status with a membership of 350.

After an invocation by Grand Chaplain J. M. Martin, Judge Furman prefaced the formal ceremony with some words of explanation pertaining to the ancient custom of Masonic laying of corner stones, which obtains only in case of buildings erected for religious, charitable or educational purposes.

Then the grand treasurer was ordered to deposit the archive box in its niche. The box contained a history of the church, several of the church newspapers, copies of the secular papers of Ada, some small coins, a copy of the new church discipline, a rose and an assortment of cards and memoranda. The cornerstone of the old church will be transplanted to the new and will rest near the stone placed today.

Judge Furman then in an impressive manner poured upon the stone the "corn of nourishment," the "wine of refreshment," and the "oil of joy." Next, after the Masons had given the public grand honors of Masonry, instead of the customary ode all joined in singing "Nearer My God to Thee." This was followed by an appropriate prayer by Rev. C. M. Coppedge, Presiding Elder.

Then followed a beautiful address by Judge Furman. "The laying of corner stones is mankind's oldest custom," said he. Allusions thereto were quoted from the prophets and the audience were clearly informed why it constitutes the principal ceremony of Free Masonry. In eloquent words the speaker elaborated the beautiful symbolism of the ceremony, to the great enlightenment of his hearers.

At the conclusion of the address all joined in singing the Doxology, after which Pastor Rippey pronounced the benediction.

The day was perfect for the outdoor service and the entire program was carried out beautifully. The occasion was one ever to be cherished in the memory of the great congregation of the First M. E. church, South.

NOMINATIONS MADE IN 11 DELEGATE DISTRICTS

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 25.—Up to the present time eleven of the men who have been nominated by the two great parties as candidates to the constitutional convention, have been selected by the people. Conventions are being held nearly every day, and other delegates chosen to represent their parties at the polls on November 6.

At Prague, O. T., J. M. Sandlin was nominated by the Democrats for the Twenty-second district. Mr. Sandlin is city attorney of Prague. The towns of Meeker, Stroud, Prague and East Parks participated.

In the Osage nation, which has two delegates, the Republicans nominated I. D. Taylor of Pawhuska and Frank A. Denoya of Remington. Taylor is an attorney who represented the Osage nation in Washington last winter and Denoya is a banker.

At Milhall, in the Twenty-fourth district, the Republicans nominated Dan Holiday, of Crescent City on the eighth ballot. In a convention held in the Forty-third district, the Democrats gave the nomination to David Hogg of Grand. Hogg was representative from the Eighth district to the last legislature.

The main questions dealt with in the Democratic platform were the school land and negro problems. The platform designated the Republicans as carpetbaggers and favored separate schools.

The Democrats at Chandler in the Twenty-third district nominated J. B. A. Robertson of Chandler.

Colonel J. F. Morphis of Pawnee was nominated by the Republicans of the Eighteenth constitutional district.

In Dewey county, comprising the Forty-second district, W. R. Meyers of Taloga was selected.

At Pauls Valley, Miss Lasater defeated E. E. Akire for the Democratic nomination from the Ninety-fourth district.

BUSINESS CLASS WANTS THE ISLAND ANNEXED

Havana, Sept. 25.—All classes are now waiting for the conditions under which tranquility likely will be restored in Cuba, and been disappointment is expressed on every side because of the likelihood of peace being brought about without armed American intervention. That difference of the opposing factions could be reconciled was not generally believed until today, when it was announced that the liberals and the insurgents had empowered a committee to report them before the American mediators.

It is evident that the business interests of the island have no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to rule themselves, and now, when it appears too late, they are openly favoring forcible intervention and possibly annexation.

Secretary of War Taft is cognizant of this general opinion that peace cannot last unless it is enforced by an American army, but he considers that it is the duty of the United States to give the Republic another chance and believes that it would be bad policy for the United States to keep a force in Cuba longer than was required to supervise the laying down of arms. He said today that if the Liberals and Moderates harmonize their differences the United States must regard the compact as made in good faith.

That peace will come as the result of the mediation of the United States is now believed by Cubans, regardless of party affiliation, but whether it will be on terms which will insure permanent tranquility is a question.

Havana, Sept. 25.—Victory for Liberals or revolutionary party seems certain after the conclusion of a long conference last night between a committee of the insurgents, of eight members, and the American peace commissioners. The insurgent committee announced there was practically no difference remaining between them and Messrs Taft and Bacon, and that they would receive a draft of the peace plans today. These probably would be agreed to at a meeting to be held in the Presidio, where the prisoners who are members of the committee are confined.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

ROOSEVELT'S DUDE OUTFIT

Young Fellows from New York Who Didn't Take with the Cowboys.

"It was in 1885 that I first saw Roosevelt," says H. W. Otis, of Peshastin, Wash., in Success Magazine. "That was the year he established his ranch in the Bad Lands of Dakota and Nebraska. Had I known that young fellow was booked for the presidency of the United States I certainly would have cultivated his acquaintance more than I did."

"The most conspicuous parts of him then, as now, were his glasses and his big teeth. I remember his advent into camp and his initiation as a cowpuncher. It is always the custom to get, for the tenderfoot to ride the worst broncho obtainable. Roosevelt, on getting astride the wild horse, was mighty soon dumped off. He was thrown time and time again, but persisted until he succeeded in breaking the animal to ride, and when he came back to camp he let out a war whoop worthy of a true buckaroo. That experience gained for him the respect of the older cowboys, who looked with haughty disdain upon a tenderfoot."

"There were five or six young fellows from New York with Roosevelt, and we called them 'the dude outfit.' I have no doubt President Roosevelt well remembers an incident which occurred in camp one day on the round-up. We had in our gang a wild, reckless fellow named Bill Jones. Bill had killed another man's dog. One of the New Yorkers said: 'I'd like to see that Bill Jones kill a dog of mine.' 'Well,' said Bill, who chanced to hear the remark, 'you just play for a few minutes that it was your dog that Bill Jones killed.' The young New Yorker concluded that he did not care to have anything to do with supposititious cases—at least he remained in the tent."

SWEDS A MEDICAL WONDER

Man Whose Main Diet Is Apples Paddles Canoe from Stockholm to Paris.

Paris.—Medical men now are occupied with the case of Gustav Nordin, a hardy Swede, who paddled his own canoe from Stockholm to Paris and reached here in robust health after the long voyage during which he lived on apples, milk, water and bread.

The Swede states that he undertook the dangerous and arduous voyage to show what could be done by a man who has given up meat, tea, coffee, wine, beer, spirits and tobacco. He prides himself in eclipsing vegetarians and returning to the system that is termed natural alimentation.

Nordin agreed to allow the doctors to draw some blood from his legs and arms for the purpose of analysis. He states that when in America at the age of 18 he found he could not eat ordinary food and was suffering, so he began a diet of fruit, principally apples, on which he thrived and became the robust person he is to-day.

GIVES CASH FOR HER PETS

Actress Bequeaths $15,000 for Care of Animals at Death—Were Her Only Companions.

New York.—The fact that Cecilia A. Wolsey, who was formerly a performer on the vaudeville stage under the name of Lillian Western, bequeathed $15,000 for the care of her dog, parrot and a cage of love birds, became known when her will was filed. Harriet E. Gates, a friend of the dead woman, is charged with the care of the animals, and Miss Wolsey's will provides that she shall have the use of the $15,000 for that purpose. After the death of Mrs. Gates the will stipulates that the remainder of the money shall go to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to care for Miss Wolsey's pets if they outlive Mrs. Gates, and, if not, to care for other homeless animals.

Miss Wolsey was a "musical specialist" of the vaudeville stage and retired from it a year ago, having only her pets as companions.

ENGLISH WOMEN UNTIDY.

Oriental Artist Declares Their Gait Is Ungainly and Their Figures Out of Poise.

London.—Yoshio Markino, a Japanese artist at present in this country, deplores the ungainly carriage of the Englishwoman.

"The London ladies have such nice faces and such pretty figures. How sad it is that they carry themselves so badly!" is his criticism.

"I walk up and down this great city," he continued. "I notice that the ladies are so awkward. Their arms are huddled up, their elbows are too much in evidence, the skirt is caught up untidily by one hand, throwing the whole figure out of poise."

"I believe the reason is that everybody in this country is too active, too much in a hurry—not only the men who work, but the women also. How long can one be graceful under these circumstances? The women of my country are so happy and peaceful. They are never in haste."

As to dress, Mr. Markino said: "The ladies of England are too fond of fashion. They copy the ladies of France. What will suit a Frenchwoman will never suit the Englishwoman. I do not like these short sleeves. They are out of place. I see a smart girl with a short sleeve. She seems to say to me: 'See, now, I am ready to do the scrubbing.'"

Another point which astounds him is the assurance of the English girl.

"She walks along with her head in the air, so haughty," Mr. Markino said. "She is afraid of nothing. In our country to do so would not be modest. Our women go always with eyes cast to the ground. They are content to be women. They do not care to be 'masculines.'"

Cherry Cakes.

Make a dainty confection for serving at an afternoon reception which will rival the best goods of the caterer. Cream one pound of butter with half a pound of coarse powdered sugar. Add the yolks of ten eggs beaten and one and a half pounds of pastry flour sifted with a dessert spoonful of baking powder. Add a little milk and the beaten whites. Chop fine one-half pound of crystallized cherries and one-fourth pound of angelica and stir in the last thing. Bake in small patty pans in a fairly quick oven. Cool on a sieve and dip the top of each one in a thin boiled icing which you have flavored with maraschino. Put a cherry on the top of each and three leaves of angelica.

BRAND OF TAILLESS PIG.

Pioneer of Montana Recalls a Feat of Sharpshooting in the Early Days.

Looking over a brand register the other day reminded me of an event which occurred at Fort Benton in 1866," said the Montana pioneer to a group of friends at Helena. "The story serves to illustrate two things—first, the unerring accuracy of Al. B. Hamilton's aim, and again the expedients that are resorted to in order to procure an original brand."

"Hamilton was the first justice of the peace in northern Montana. His commission was issued by Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, the leader of the famous civil war Irish brigade, who was then acting as governor of the territory of Montana. Hamilton had charge of the American Fur company's post at Fort Benton, and the feat to which I shall refer may have had something to do with his election as sheriff of Chouteau county in later years."

"I have heard of cattlemen using a frying-pan, railroad fish plates and other unusual shapes in metals as branding irons, but, after all, I think Hamilton's was perhaps the most original."

The company by which Hamilton was employed had about 35 head of hogs that were continually getting mixed up with the porkers belonging to others, and he determined to put a brand upon his animals that would prevent any chance of mistaken identity.

"With some little difficulty Hamilton got all the company's hogs in an enclosure, went to the office, secured his .44 revolver and a supply of cartridges and seated himself on the fence surrounding the pigs. Without getting closer than ten feet to a single one of the animals, Hamilton in the course of perhaps 15 minutes had shot the tail from each. He did not waste more than half a dozen shots in doing it, nor was a single hog injured, save that its tail had been clipped off clean. That feat gave him the title of champion shot of the territory."

All Used Up.

"I would like," he said, "to do something to cement our friendship."
"I'm afraid," she replied, "that you never can. You're so stuck on yourself that I don't see where any more cement is to come from."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Again Claims Right to Talk Government Ownership.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 25.—William J. Bryan, speaking here yesterday, defended his right to express what opinion his conscience dictated upon the Government ownership of railroads. He touched upon the Cuban situation and gave arguments used throughout his Southern trip to show that the Republican party has adopted Democratic principles. A feature of Mr. Bryan's reception was a banquet in his honor where party lines were thrown aside, and was introduced by a leading member of the Louisiana Republican club.

BALL PLAYERS' ARMS ARE GOOD BAROMETERS

"A veteran pitcher who has seen service in a good league for several seasons doesn't need a barometer to tell him the weather is going to change," says "Tacks" Parrott, the old-time twirler. "His pitching arm will tell him about the coming change. It isn't that I am subject to rheumatism," he continued, "for I am not, but I'll bet that every old pitcher is affected every time the weather is preparing to change."

Mike Kahoe, the well-known catcher, declares that the old catchers can also give a pretty fair line on the weather by the feeling in their throwing arms. "I never had even a twinge any place until after several years' catching. Then my arm and shoulder got so that every time the weather changed I would get a notification of the impending transition several hours in advance of the occurrence."

"I consulted a physician, who said the pains were not caused by rheumatism, as that affection always comes in the joints. The only way I can account for it is the contraction and expansion of the muscles by the weather."

Mordecai Brown, Chicago National League Pitcher.

Mordecai "Three Fingers" Brown, the Chicago club's great pitcher, who is already being dubbed the "Christy Mathewson of 1906," has made a remarkable record since he has attained the prominence he now has. At the present writing Brown has won nineteen out of twenty-four games.

Brown has only three fingers on his pitching hand. His right forefinger he lost in an accident when he was a boy, long before he began to play ball. Instead of this being a handicap, it seems to help Brown. He is credited with having everything that any other pitcher has, including almost perfect control and unlimited nerve.

HISTORY OF STRAIGHT (BASEBALL VICTORIES)

Chicago's American leaguers broke the great run of consecutive victories made by the New York Giants in 1904 and were within one game of tying the world's major league record made by the Providence Grays in the National league's pennant race of 1884, when the Washington team administered a rude shock by defeating them in a double-header the other day.

Both the Giants and the Orioles were stopped within two games of equaling the record set by Frank Bancroft's Rhode Island team.

An interesting feature of these struggles to equal or better the Providence mark is the fact that the Baltimore and New York records were set ten years apart. The Orioles made theirs ten years after Providence set the pace and New York came along ten years later and tied the Baltimore mark.

Comiskey's men broke through these precedents and only two years after New York's run of 18 straight along came the White Stockings with a run that beat both the Giants and Orioles and was within one of attaining the world's record.

The Orioles in 1894 landed 25 out of 26 games, though their best consecutive run of victories was 18. After winning the 18 straight the Orioles went to Cincinnati where they were beaten, but the succeeding seven games won by the Orioles. Baltimore's percentage for 25 out of 26 was .961.

Charlie Radbourne deserves most of the credit for that winning streak of Providence. Sweeney, who set the world's strikeout record by fanning 19 batters in nine innings in that same season, had deserted the Grays, joining the St. Louis Union, and the bulk of the pitching fell upon Radbourne's shoulders.

Providence's record began on August 7 and the twentieth victory was won on September 6. Three days later teams did not play every day in those days—Buffalo stopped the victorious run of Grays by beating them 2 to 0, but Bancroft's men moved steadily on to the pennant just the same.

Several members of the championship team Bancroft had at Providence are known in baseball history as stars. Radbourne, of course, was one of the greatest box artists ever known and to the mind of Frank Bancroft his equal has never yet been seen. Paul Hines played center field in those days for the Grays. Hines is famous for having made a triple play, unassisted, in 1878, the only one on record until O'Hagen was credited with turning the same trick in Jersey City a couple of years ago. Denny played third base for the Grays, Paul Radford was in the right garden, Gilligan caught Radbourne, and Start, once with the Chicago Nationals, was on first. Other members of that famous team were Carroll, who played left; Nava, who did the work in the short field.

This record of 20 straight is only a major league record. The world's record for consecutive victories is held by the Corsicana club of the Texas league, with a total of 27, made in 1902. Corsicana's record beat a previous mark of 24, made by the Houston (Tex.) team in 1898, and of 25, made by the Charlotte (N. C.) team in May, 1902. In 1903 the Jersey City club of the Eastern league made a run of 24 consecutive victories.

KITTREDGE QUILTS MAJOR LEAGUE GAME FOR GOOD

Malachi Kittredge, the veteran catcher, who has been released by the Washington club, says he is through with the big leagues. Kittredge has been a thrifty player, and he has bought an interest in the Montreal club of the Eastern club from Farrell.

Kittredge will act as team manager. He is still a good catcher, and will take his regular turn behind the bat.

"Kit" has been in big league harness for a good many years, with the exception of the time he undertook to make a financial winner of the old Worcester club a few years ago. Wor-

BALL AND BAT NOTES

National League.

"Pop" Anson picks the Cubs to win the National league pennant. There are others who readily agree with him.

Catcher Al Shaw, of Louisville, bought by Pittsburgh, will report at the close of the American association season.

Mullin, who has had a couple of tries in fast company, has been signed by the Giants. He will not work till next season.

Fred Miller, a giant left hander from Kentucky, is the latest acquisition to Pittsburgh's pitching staff.

Carl Rothgeb, the former Chicago National league ball player has gone to Fort Collins, Col., to become athletic director of the Colorado agricultural college. He has been drafted by the Philadelphia Nationals, but may give up professional playing.

Bert Maxwell, one of the leading pitchers of the Southern league this year and former member of the University of Kansas ball squad, has been sold by Montgomery to the Pittsburgh Nationals. Maxwell has won a majority of games pitched this year.

The average number of points between first place and the tail in 12 professional leagues is 291. The most scattering race of the 12 is in the National league, where, on Monday last, there was a difference of 370 points. At that time there were 306 points difference in the American league, 259 in the American association, 340 in the Central league, 283 in the South Atlantic, 269 in the Northern Copper, 353 in the Western, 238 in the Kitty, 243 in the Eastern, 212 in the Three Eye, 296 in the Ohio-Pennsylvania, and 319 in the Southern.

American League.

Cleveland's new outfielder is already having his troubles. He has played only three games, and his name has already gone out in the press scores as Coffin, Coffyn, Coffryn, Chaffeyne, Coffryn and Caffin.

Louis Brockett, a pitcher of the Buffalo baseball club, has been sold to the New York American league club. He will not leave Buffalo until the end of the Eastern league season.

There are only 14 players in the American league who have escaped injury this season. Football never claimed such a rich harvest.

This has been Waddell's poorest season in years. The once great Rube has not been just right, bad hands hampering him materially.

Cleveland pulled off a triple play the other day, Turner engineering it. That made three for the two big leagues this season.

The Milwaukee club has sold Pitcher Frank Oberlin to the Boston club for $3,000, and Outfielder Sullivan, of the Minneapolis team, has been purchased by the same team for $2,500.

Pitcher Cicotte, of the Des Moines baseball team, has been sold to the Detroit team.

Announcement has been made that the St. Louis Americans had drafted Paul Davidson, the fast outfielder with Duquesne, of the Three Eye league.

Among the Minors.

There is a lot of money wrapped up in some crack ball players. Frequently a small fortune is netted by the sale of one player who ranks head and shoulders above his mates.

"Heine" Berger, of Columbus, sold to

"Heine" Berger.

Cleveland for $6,500, is one of the select few. Besides costing the Cleveland club a high purchase price, he will draw $3,200 a year salary.

The Erie Interstate league team defeated the Pittsburgh National leaguers by the score of 4 to 3.

A number of big league managers are keeping Pitcher Tozer, of the Buffalo club under surveillance. He is a steady winner and has speed.

Second Baseman Knabe, of the American association, will in all probability be the next player to be sold to faster company. He is a star in his position.

President O'Brien, of the American association, has suspended Manager Cantillon and Pitcher Hynes, of the Milwaukee team, pending an investigation of the case in which the Milwaukee baseball men are alleged to have assaulted a spectator after the latter had thrown a missile at Third Baseman Clark, who muffed a fly in a game the other day.

MISS MAUDE FEALY.

"FIRST PLAY" A MISNOMER.

Rarely Does a Dramatist Succeed at His Entrance to the Work.

An unknown dramatist came forward last winter with a play that was accounted one of the minor triumphs of the season. The first play of a beginner was acclaimed a remarkable piece of work and there were the customary comments on the excellence of a first play. The justice of this characterization was shown later. The author has had two other works accepted for production during the coming season, and last month three others were copyrighted at Washington. The drama seen last year was a creditable performance and the author deserved all the credit she got; but it was no more a first play than such pieces usually are.

Clyde Fitch's first play is said to have been produced ten years after he wrote it, and many unsuccessful dramas had intervened before this comedy saw the light. Hugh Davies' "Cousin Kate," which won him his vogue in London, was written after "Cynthia" and "Mrs. Goring's Neck-lace."

"The man who feels that he has talent for playwriting," a manager told a reporter recently, "should not give up because his plays are not bought at once. He should keep at work just as steadily as if he expected to sell them as fast as they are finished. The demand for plays is at present so great that he will be able to sell them all after he has made one hit."

"These researches into old dramas are not very likely to bring forth much that is worthy, but I have yet to see the manager who would not take these pieces nor the playwright who would not use them. There is, of course, the money and also the dramatist's confidence in his work. I cannot now recall a case in which the first success was the writer's first play; so the large army of playwrights who expect to come into their own some day should simply keep on the job and write plays as if they had already received their $1,000 in advance royalties."

HAD TASTE FOR MUSIC.

Young Woman's Talent Inherited from Her Grandfather.

George Bernard Shaw, the playwright, has a good deal of contempt for scientists.

"We hold scientists in too high honor," he wrote recently to an American admirer. "We take them too much on faith. We believe every scientific assertion, no matter how incredible it may be."

"And how incredible, how preposterous much of this scientific talk is! There's heredity, for instance. I have seen books on heredity that were about as logical as the remark of an old woman whose daughter played the piano."

"Your daughter plays well," a woman said to her.

"Yes," the old woman replied, "she does have a fine touch, and it's no wonder, for she loves the piano, and never tires of it. Ye see, she's a great taste for music; but, then, that's only natural, for her grandfather had his skull fractured with a cornet at a picnic."

HER EXTRAVAGANT HABITS.

Absence of a Carriage Did Not Keep Mabel Fenton from the Ball.

During the summer months Ross and Fenton, in private life Charles and Mabel Ross, stars in "The Social Whirl" now running at the Casino in New York, reside at their fine place, the Farm, near Asbury Park, N. J. That is, they go down to their bungalow there, during the run of the Casino success, from Saturday night till Monday afternoon.

On a recent Saturday night Miss Fenton hurried home and changed her costume to a more elaborate one in order to attend a ball given by friends who have a handsome country home a few miles from the Farm.

Many of the best features of the entertainment were to be held till the late hour she could arrive; but judge of Miss Fenton's chagrin when she learned that it was expected she would go from the depot straight to the ball, and hence, after she had dismissed the carriage that brought her home to dress, she found that no other wheeled vehicle was obtainable.

Just as she was about to despair, an ice wagon going to Asbury before daybreak for that valuable commodity lumbered past the Farm.

Miss Fenton commandeered the vehicle at once. Bribed beyond the dreams of avarice, the driver made record time to the ball, where the arrival of the sumptuously gowned and long-expected guest in such a turnout created a sensation.

Some awed eye-witness ran to tell Mr. Ross the next day.

"What do you think of your wife coming to the ball in an ice wagon?" said the busybody.

"It's just like Mabel," remarked Ross, "always the costliest equipage for her!"

GOSSIPY THEATRICAL NOTES.

William Lamp, seen last in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," will light up the role of Marius in Wilton Lackaye's production of "The Law and the Man."

Sallie Fisher will play this season in "The Man from Now," in which Harry Bulger will star. She appeared last season with Frank Daniels in "Sergeant Brue."

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard have written a play founded on the historic love tale of Justinian and Theodora. Giles Shine has been secured for the role of Patrick O'Brien in "The Chorus Lady."

"In Command" has been selected as the title of the new musical play by Ben M. Jerome, which will be produced under the direction of the Ben M. Jerome Amusement company. The scene is Panama.

Macklyn Arbuckle, accompanied by many of his original company, will open his fourth season in "The County Chairman" at Pittsburgh. Arrangements are being made whereby Robert Mantell and H. B. Irving will be seen together in a few matinee performances of "Othello," Mr. Irving playing Iago.

Miss Nella Bergen has been re-engaged by Klaw & Erlanger as prima donna of "The Free Lance." Her new contract with them stipulates that she is also to sing the role of the Princess Yolande when the Sousa opera is produced in London next spring.

TRUTH WAS OUT OF PLACE.

Insane Man Sure It Was Not Wanted in Paris Law Courts.

The Paris law courts witnessed a strange spectacle yesterday evening. One of the officials, after the day's business was over, was astounded to see approaching him in a corridor a man who was quite naked, and who carried his clothing under his arm. "I am Truth," explained the apparition, "as you see by my costume. I understand that truth is sought in the Dreyfus case. Will you take me to the Court of Cassation?" The official was about to lead him to the chief of police office, when the man exclaimed, "You cannot deceive Truth. The name of the police office is written over the door. Ah! Truth is not wanted here," he cried, and was in the act of flinging himself through a window, when the official caught him by the left leg, as somebody once caught Old Harry Longlegs, who would not say his prayers. Then the official gave himself up to the spirit of his visitant's madness, offered to show him the court, but took him instead down a staircase to the stores department, where he was cared for till the police arrived.—London Globe.

TRIUMPHED EVEN OVER DEATH.

Remarkable Deed Ascribed to Austrian Bandit of 1680.

Dr. Loye tells the following strange story, taken from the archives of an Austrian police officer, and relating to an execution said to have taken place in Vienna in 1680: A well-known bandit named Schavenburg was caught, together with four of his associates, and they were all condemned to death. They were already on their knees, ready to submit to their fate, when Schavenburg addressed the judge, asking that his four companions might be ranged in single file in front of him at a distance of eight feet from each other.

"If," he said, "after I am beheaded, I get up and walk to the first of my comrades, will you pardon him?"

The judge thought he was pretty safe in complying with the request.

"But if I walk up to the second, the third, and the fourth, will you pardon those also?"

The judge replied that he would obtain their pardon from the emperor. The bandit was satisfied, bent his head, received the mortal blow, and his head rolled down; but to the great surprise of the judge and the spectators, the body got up, walked alone, passed the first, second, third and fourth of the condemned men, and fell down. The occurrence was told to the emperor, who, according to promise, pardoned the four criminals.

California Recovering.

California bank deposits amount to $540,000,000 and the banks in which they are held are credited with assets of $693,000,000. The loss suffered by San Francisco, by the earthquake and fire, was unequaled by any similar catastrophe in the history of the world, but despite its magnitude, some of its appalling force is lost in the contemplation of the financial showing made by the entire state. There is great promise of large crops of grain and fruits, the mines and oil wells are turning out new wealth more rapidly than ever before, and if the insurance companies would pay up their losses and the striking sailors return to work at the highest wages ever paid for similar employment, the Bay City would blossom into its old-time splendor at a rate that would astonish the world.

"Boys Will Be Boys."

"There were a couple of old forty-ainers down in Tombstone, Ariz.," said a tourist the other day, "who were great friends. One of them was 80 years old and the other 81. They were taking their morning toddy one day and fell into a disagreement over the date of some pioneer occurrence. Each was insistent upon his own recollection of it, and finally they got into a regular quarrel. Backing away from the bar, they drew their guns and blazed away at each other, but their sight was so dim and their hands so unsteady that all the bullets went wide. When their guns were emptied the barkeep emerged from beneath the counter and made them shake hands and make up. The local paper, the Epitaph, in describing the occurrence, treated it in an indulgent vein and closed by saying: 'Well, boys will be boys.'"

South Africa's Great Men.

Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Beit were equally un-demonstrative. A great scheme of Rhodes was once collapsing when Wernher and Beit came to the rescue and saved it. Beit for his firm—Wernher & Beit—took up the obligations. Rhodes said simply: "That's all right," but the following day, as Beit and he stood together at the bar in the Kimberley club, he abruptly asked the steward for half a dozen promissory note forms, signed them in blank and stuffed them into Beit's pocket, saying: "You backed me. If things go wrong, you'll want mine, too." In the success the notes were forgotten by both and were handed back some six months later.

The Best Hamlet.

In his first success at Drury Lane, Edmund Kean overheard a knot of old stage carpenters discussing vigorously the various players of Hamlet they had seen in their day. "Well," said one, "you may talk of Henderson and Kemble and this new man, but give me Bannister's Hamlet—he was always done 20 minutes sooner than any of 'em."

OFFICERS AMBUSHED AND KILLED BY NEGROES

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Despite the peace of the day, the feeling of anxiety felt and expressed by many citizens appears at this hour—10:30 p. m.—to have been realized. Although only meager reports have been received, it is confirmed that three county policemen, riding along their beat in South Atlanta, near Clark University, a well-known negro college, were ambushed from an alley with the result that Policeman Heard and another officer—name not known—were killed and the third officer was shot fatally and is dying at the Grady Hospital.

Still another officer is reported missing.

The policemen, who are mounted, with a squad of militiamen, are pursuing the negroes into the woods. The casualties on the other side are not known.

At Howell's Station, three miles west of the center of the city, the railroad operator has been killed, and another man in the same office either has been killed or wounded by negroes.

The city marshal of Edgewood was shot but not seriously hurt while trying to arrest a negro late this evening. Other similar rumors are heard, but lack confirmation.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25, 1 a. m.—Following the killing of Policeman Heard in South Atlanta tonight, the force which accompanied him and were not disabled in the fight pursued the negroes. They captured ten of the attacking party. Four escaped. Six were put aboard a street car under guard of the police and deputies, and started for the county jail in the center of town. As the car approached 491 Crews street a waiting mob stopped the car. Two of the prisoners, Sam McRauder and Whey Brooks, made a bold dash for liberty. The mob caught them in the front yard of the home occupied, at the above number, by Mrs. R. C. Thompson, a highly respected white woman. The negroes were cut and beaten and left for dead. Mrs. Thompson, watching the exciting scene from the porch of her home, dropped dead from what is supposed to have been heart disease.

The police force succeeded in bringing the other four negroes to town and they are now locked up in the county jail.

Later it was discovered that McRauder and Brooks are alive. They were brought to the city and are reported dying.

BANKER STENSLAND ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 25.—Paul O. Stensland of Chicago, bank embezzler, arrived from Tangier yesterday on the steamer Prinz Adelbert, was brought to this city at 6 o'clock tonight from Quarantine and locked up at police headquarters. He was taken to Chicago this morning.

Harry Olsen, Assistant State Attorney of Illinois, who accompanied Stensland, stated that the prisoner had made a confession to him while en route from Tangier.

Theodore Stensland, the banker's son, immediately afterward issued a statement, in which he said that his father would plead guilty to certain of the indictments charging violation of the Illinois State banking laws after he had examined the indictments. He would not plead guilty to forgery, but would reveal everything leading up to the wrecking of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, and in so doing would implicate other men prominent in the financial circles of Chicago.

He added that if there was a shortage of more than $400,000 in the accounts of the bank his father would prove that Cashier Hering was responsible for everything above that amount.

CORNERSTONE LAID WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

At the appointed hour of eleven, Tuesday, was begun by the Masons the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new Methodist church at corner of 14th street and Townsend Ave. Costing 11,000, this is the first pretentious church edifice to be erected in Ada.

Masons from neighboring towns were invited to participate. About fifty strong the members of the order formed line at their hall and marched to the scene of ceremonies, where already were gathered a large number of people. At northwest corner of the building, which is to be the main entrance, near its final resting place lay the stone, a most handsome piece of masonry, a perfect cube of white marble inscribed on one exposed side:

"First M. E. Church, South, 1906"

Rev. T. L. Rippey, Pastor," on the other "Building Committee: J. W. Hays, Frank Jones, John W. Beard, T. L. Rippey."

Hon. Henry M. Furman officiated in the ceremonies. Pastor Rippey read a brief sketch of the progress of the church from its establishment in 1895, through its earlier struggles and later achievements, up to its present flourishing status with a membership of 350.

After an invocation by Grand Chaplain J. M. Martin, Judge Furman prefaced the formal ceremony with some words of explanation pertaining to the ancient custom of Masonic laying of corner stones, which obtains only in case of buildings erected for religious, charitable or educational purposes. Then the grand treasurer was ordered to deposit the archive box in its niche. The box contained a history of the church, several of the church newspapers, copies of the secular papers of Ada, some small coins, a copy of the new church discipline, a rose and an assortment of cards and memoranda. The cornerstone of the old church will be transplanted to the new and will rest near the stone placed today.

Judge Furman then in an impressive manner poured upon the stone the "corn of nourishment," the "wine of refreshment," and the "oil of joy." Next, after the Masons had given the public grand honors of Masonry, instead of the customary ode all joined in singing "Nearer My God to Thee." This was followed by an appropriate prayer by Rev. C. M. Coppedge, Presiding Elder.

Then followed a beautiful address by Judge Furman. "The laying of corner stones is mankind's oldest custom," said he. Allusions thereto were quoted from the prophets and the audience were clearly informed why it constitutes the principal ceremony of Free Masonry. In eloquent words the speaker elaborated the beautiful symbolism of the ceremony, to the great enlightenment of his hearers.

At the conclusion of the address all joined in singing the Doxology, after which Pastor Rippey pronounced the benediction.

The day was perfect for the outdoor service and the entire program was carried out beautifully. The occasion was one ever to be cherished in the memory of the great congregation of the First M. E. church, South.

NOMINATIONS MADE IN 11 DELEGATE DISTRICTS

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 25.—Up to the present time eleven of the men who have been nominated by the two great parties as candidates to the constitutional convention, have been selected by the people. Conventions are being held nearly every day, and other delegates chosen to represent their parties at the polls on November 6.

At Prague, O. T., J. M. Sandlin was nominated by the Democrats from the Twenty-second district. Mr. Sandlin is city attorney of Prague. The towns of Meeker, Stroud, Prague and East Parks participated.

In the Osage nation, which has two delegates, the Republicans nominated I. D. Taylor of Pawhuska and Frank A. Denoya of Remington. Taylor is an attorney who represented the Osage nation in Washington last winter and Denoya is a banker.

At Milhall, in the Twenty-fourth district, the Republicans nominated Dan Holiday, of Crescent City on the eighth ballot. In a convention held in the Forty-third district, the Democrats gave the nomination to David Hogg of Grand. Hogg was representative from the Eighth district to the last legislature.

The main questions dealt with in the Democratic platform were the school land and negro problems. The platform designated the Republicans as carpetbaggers and favored separate schools.

The Democrats at Chandler in the Twenty-third district nominated J. B. A. Robertson of Chandler.

Colonel J. F. Morphis of Pawnee was nominated by the Republicans of the Eighteenth constitutional district.

In Dewey county, comprising the Forty-second district, W. R. Meyers of Taloga was selected.

At Pauls Valley, M'as Lasater defeated E. E. Akire for the Democratic nomination from the Ninety-fourth district.

BUSINESS CLASS WANTS THE ISLAND ANNEXED

Havana, Sept. 25.—All classes are now waiting for the conditions under which tranquility likely will be restored in Cuba, and the disappointment is expressed by the fact that the likelihood of being brought about without armed American intervention. That difference of the opposing factions could be reconciled was not generally believed until today, when it was announced that the liberals and the insurgents had empowered a committee to report them before the American mediators.

It is evident that the business interests of the island have no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to rule themselves, and now, when it appears too late, they are openly favoring forcible intervention and possibly annexation.

Secretary of War Taft is cognizant of this general opinion that peace cannot last unless it is enforced by an American army, but he considers that it is the duty of the United States to give the Republic another chance and believes that it would be bad policy for the United States to keep a force in Cuba longer than was required to supervise the laying down of arms. He said today that if the Liberals and Moderates harmonize their differences the United States must regard the compact as made in good faith.

That peace will come as the result of the mediation of the United States is now believed by Cubans, regardless of party affiliation, but whether it will be on terms which will insure permanent tranquility is a question.

Havana, Sept. 25.—Victory for Liberals or revolutionary party seems certain after the conclusion of a long conference last night between a committee of the insurgents, of eight members, and the American peace commissioners. The insurgent committee announced there was practically no difference remaining between them and Messrs Taft and Bacon, and that they would receive a draft of the peace agreed to at a meeting to be held in the Presidio, where the prisoners who are members of the committee are confined.

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

ROOSEVELT'S DUDE OUTFIT

Young Fellows from New York Who Didn't Take with the Cowboys.

"It was in 1885 that I first saw Roosevelt," says H. W. Otis, of Peshawar, Wash., in Success Magazine. "That was the year he established his ranch in the Bad Lands of Dakota and Nebraska. Had I known that young fellow was booked for the presidency of the United States I certainly would have cultivated his acquaintance more than I did."

"The most conspicuous parts of him then, as now, were his glasses and his big teeth. I remember his advent into camp and his initiation as a cowpuncher. It is always the custom to get, for the tenderfoot to ride the worst broncho obtainable. Roosevelt, on getting astride the wild horse, was mighty soon dumped off. He was thrown time and time again, but persisted until he succeeded in breaking the animal to ride, and when he came back to camp he let out a war whoop worthy of a true buckaroo. That experience gained for him the respect of the older cowboys, who looked with friendly disdain upon a tenderfoot."

"There were five or six young fellows from New York with Roosevelt, and we called them 'the dude outfit.' I have no doubt President Roosevelt well remembers an incident which occurred in camp one day on the roundup. We had in our gang a wild, reckless fellow named Bill Jones. Bill had killed another man's dog. One of the New Yorkers said: 'I'd like to see that Bill Jones kill a dog of mine.' 'Well,' said Bill, who chanced to hear the remark, 'you just play for a few minutes that it was your dog that Bill Jones killed.' The young New Yorker concluded that he did not care to have anything to do with superstitious cases—at least he remained in the tent."

SWEDS A MEDICAL WONDER

Man Whose Main Diet Is Apples Paddles Canoe from Stockholm to Paris.

Paris.—Medical men now are occupied with the case of Gustav Nordib, a hardy Swede, who paddled his own canoe from Stockholm to Paris and reached here in robust health after the long voyage during which he lived on apples, milk, water and bread. The Swede states that he undertook the dangerous and arduous voyage to show what could be done by a man who has given up meat, tea, coffee, wine, beer, spirits and tobacco. He prides himself in eclipsing vegetarians and returning to the system that is termed natural alimentation. Nordin agreed to allow the doctors to draw some blood from his legs and arms for the purpose of analysis. He states that when in America at the age of 18 he found he could not eat ordinary food and was suffering, so he began a diet of fruit, principally apples, on which he thrived and became the robust person he is to-day.

GIVES CASH FOR HER PETS

Actress Bequeaths $15,000 for Care of Animals at Death—Were Her Only Companions.

New York.—The fact that Cecilia A. Wolsey, who was formerly a performer on the vaudeville stage under the name of Lillian Western, bequeathed $15,000 for the care of her dog, parrot and a cage of love birds, became known when her will was filed. Harriet E. Gates, a friend of the dead woman, is charged with the care of the animals, and Miss Wolsey's will provides that she shall have the use of the $15,000 for that purpose. After the death of Mrs. Gates the will stipulates that the remainder of the money shall go to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to care for Miss Wolsey's pets if they outlive Mrs. Gates and, if not, to care for other homeless animals. Miss Wolsey was a "musical specialist" of the vaudeville stage and retired from it a year ago, having only her pets as companions.

ENGLISH WOMEN UNTIDY.

Oriental Artist Declares Their Gait Is Ungainly and Their Figures Out of Poise.

London.—Yoshio Markino, a Japanese artist at present in this country, deplores the ungainly carriage of the Englishwoman.

"The London ladies have such nice faces and such pretty figures. How sad it is that they carry themselves so badly!" is his criticism.

"I walk up and down this great city," he continued, "I notice that the ladies are so awkward. Their arms are huddled up, their elbows are too much to evidence, the skirt is caught up untidily by one hand, throwing the whole air out of poise."

"I believe the reason is that everybody in this country is too active, too much in a hurry—not only the men who work, but the women also. How long can one be graceful under these circumstances? The women of my country are so happy and peaceful. They are never in haste."

As to dress, Mr. Markino said: "The ladies of England are too fond of fashion. They copy the ladies of France. What will suit a Frenchwoman will never suit the Englishwoman. I do not like these short sleeves. They are out of place. I see a smart girl with a short sleeve. She seems to say to me: 'See, now, I am ready to do the scrubbing.'"

Another point which astounds him is the assurance of the English girl. "She walks along with her head in the air, so haughty," Mr. Markino said. "She is afraid of nothing. In our country to do so would not be modest. Our women go always with eyes cast to the ground. They are content to be women. They do not care to be 'miss outlines.'"

Cherry Cakes.

Make a dainty confection for serving at an afternoon reception which will rival the best goods of the caterer. Cream one pound of butter with half a pound of coarse powdered sugar. Add the yolks of ten eggs beaten and one and a half pounds of pastry flour sifted with a dessert spoonful of baking powder. Add a little milk and the beaten whites. Chop fine one-half pound of crystallized cherries and one-fourth pound of angelica and stir in the last thing. Bake in small patty pans in a fairly quick oven. Cool on a sieve and dip the top of each one in a thin boiled icing which you have flavored with maraschino. Put a cherry on the top of each and three leaves of angelica.

BRAND OF TAILLESS PIG.

Pioneer of Montana Recalls a Feat of Sharpshooting in the Early Days.

Looking over a brand register the other day reminded me of an event which occurred at Fort Benton in 1866," said the Montana pioneer to a group of friends at Helena. "The story serves to illustrate two things—first the unerring accuracy of Al. B. Hamilton's aim, and again the expedients that are resorted to in order to procure an original brand. Hamilton was the first justice of the peace in northern Montana. His commission was issued by Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, the leader of the famous civil war Irish brigade who was then acting as governor of the territory of Montana. Hamilton had charge of the American Fur company's post at Fort Benton, and the feat to which I shall refer may have had something to do with his election as sheriff of Chouteau county in later years."

"I have heard of cattlemen using a frying-pan, railroad fish plates and other unusual shapes in metals as branding irons, but after all, I think Hamilton's was perhaps the most original."

The company by which Hamilton was employed had about 35 head of hogs that were continually getting mixed up with the porkers belonging to others, and he determined to put a brand upon his animals that would prevent any chance of mistaken identity.

"With some little difficulty Hamilton got all the company's hogs in an inclosure, went to the office secured his 44 revolver and a supply of cartridges and seated himself on the fence surrounding the pigs. Without getting closer than ten feet to a single one of the animals, Hamilton in the course of perhaps 15 minutes had shot the tail from each. He did not waste more than half a dozen shots in doing it nor was a single hog injured save that its tail had been clipped off clean. That feat gave him the title of champion shot of the territory."

All Used Up

"I would like," he said, "to do something to cement our friendship."
"I'm afraid," she replied, "that you never can. You're so stuck on yourself that I don't see where any more cement is to come from."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Again Claims Right to Talk Government Ownership.

New Orleans, La., Sept 25—William J. Bryan, speaking here yesterday, defended his right to express what opinion his conscience dictated upon the Government ownership of railroads. He touched upon the Cuban situation and gave arguments used throughout his Southern trip to show that the Republican party has adopted Democratic principles. A feature of Mr. Bryan's reception was a banquet in his honor where party lines were thrown aside, and was introduced by a leading member of the Louisiana Republican club.

AROUND THE BASES

"A veteran pitcher who has seen service in a good league for several seasons doesn't need a barometer to tell him the weather is going to change," says "Tacks" Parrott, the old-time twirler. "His pitching arm will tell him about the coming change. It isn't that I am subject to rheumatism," he continued, "for I am not, but I'll bet that every old pitcher is affected every time the weather is preparing to change."

Mike Kahue, the well-known catcher, declares that the old catchers can also give a pretty fair line on the weather by the feeling in their throwing arms. "I never had even a twinge any time until after several years' catching. Then my arm and shoulder got so that every time the weather changed I would get a notification of the impending transition several hours in advance of the occurrence."

"I consulted a physician, who said the pains were not caused by rheumatism, as that affection always comes in the joints. The only way I can account for it is the contraction and expansion of the muscles by the weather."

torious run of Grays by beating them 2 to 0, but Bancroft's men moved steadily on to the pennant just the same.

Several members of the championship team Bancroft had at Providence are known in baseball history as stars. Radbourne, of course, was one of the greatest box artists ever known and to the mind of Frank Bancroft his equal has never yet been seen. Paul Hines played center field in those days for the Grays. Hines is famous for having made a triple play, unassisted, in 1878, the only one on record until O'Hagen was credited with turning the same trick in Jersey City a couple of years ago. Denny played third base for the Grays, Paul Radford was in the right garden, Gilligan caught Radbourne, and Start, once with the Chicago Nationals, was on first. Other members of that famous team were Carroll, who played left; Nava, who did the work in the short field.

This record of 20 straight is only a major league record. The world's record for consecutive victories is held by the Corsicana club of the Texas league, with a total of 27, made in 1902. Corsicana's record beat a previous mark of 24, made by the Houston (Tex.) team in 1898, and of 25, made by the Charlotte (N. C.) team in May, 1902. In 1903 the Jersey City club of the Eastern league made a run of 24 consecutive victories.

KITTREDGE QUILTS MAJOR LEAGUE GAME FOR GOOD

Malachi Kittredge, the veteran catcher, who has been released by the Washington club, says he is through with the big leagues. Kittredge has been a thrifty player, and he has bought an interest in the Montreal club of the Eastern club from Farrell. Kittredge will act as team manager. He is still a good catcher, and will take his regular turn behind the bat. "Kit" has been in big league harness for a good many years, with the exception of the time he undertook to make a financial winner of the old Worcester club a few years ago. Wor-

BALL-BAT NOTES

National League.

"Pop" Anson picks the Cubs to win the National league pennant. There are others who readily agree with him. Catcher Al Shaw, of Louisville, bought by Pittsburg, will report at the close of the American association season.

Mullin, who has had a couple of tries in last company, has been signed by the Giants. He will not work till next season.

Fred Miller, a giant left hander from Kentucky, is the latest acquisition to Pittsburg's pitching staff.

Carl Rothgeb, the former Chicago National league ball player has gone to Fort Collins, Col., to become athletic director of the Colorado agricultural college. He has been drafted by the Philadelphia Nationals, but may give up professional playing.

Bert Maxwell, one of the leading pitchers of the Southern league this year and former member of the University of Kansas ball squad, has been sold by Montgomery to the Pittsburg Nationals. Maxwell has won a majority of games pitched this year.

The average number of points between first place and the tail in 12 professional leagues is 291. The most scattering race of the 12 is in the National league, where, on Monday last, there was a difference of 370 points. At that time there were 306 points difference in the American league, 259 in the American association, 340 in the Central league, 283 in the South Atlantic, 269 in the Northern Copper, 353 in the Western, 238 in the Kitty, 243 in the Eastern, 212 in the Three Eye, 296 in the Ohio-Pennsylvania, and 319 in the Southern.

American League.

Cleveland's new outfielder is already having his troubles. He has played only three games, and his name has already gone out in the press scores as Coffin, Coffyn, Coffyn, Chaffeyno, Coffyn and Coffin.

Louis Brockett, a pitcher of the Buffalo baseball club, has been sold to the New York American league club. He will not leave Buffalo until the end of the Eastern league season.

There are only 14 players in the American league who have escaped injury this season. Football never claimed such a rich harvest.

This has been Waddell's poorest season in years. The once great Rube has not been just right, bad hands hampering him materially.

Cleveland pulled off a triple play the other day, Turner engineering it. That made three for the two big leagues this season.

The Milwaukee club has sold Pitcher Frank Oberlin to the Boston club for $3,000, and Outfielder Sullivan, of the Minneapolis team, has been purchased by the same team for $2,500.

Pitcher Cloutte, of the Des Moines baseball team, has been sold to the Detroit team.

Announcement has been made that the St. Louis Americans had drafted Paul Davidson, the fast outfielder with Duquesne, of the Three Eye league.

Among the Minors.

There is a lot of money wrapped up in some crack ball players. Frequently a small fortune is netted by the sale of one player who ranks head and shoulders above his mates. "Heine" Berger, of Columbus, sold to

"Heine" Berger.

Cleveland for $6,500, is one of the select few. Besides costing the Cleveland club a high purchase price, he will draw $3,200 a year salary.

The Erie Interstate league team defeated the Pittsburg National leaguers by the score of 4 to 3.

A number of big league managers are keeping Pitcher Toser, of the Buffalo club under surveillance. He is a steady winner and has speed.

Second Baseman Knabe, of the American association, will in all probability be the next player to be sold to faster company. He is a star in his position.

President O'Brien, of the American association, has suspended Manager Cantillon and Pitcher Hynes, of the Milwaukee team, pending an investigation of the case in which the Milwaukee baseball men are alleged to have assaulted a spectator after the latter had thrown a missile at Third Baseman Clark, who muffed a fly in a game the other day.

MISS MAUDE FEALY.

"FIRST PLAY" A MISNOMER.

Rarely Does a Dramatist Succeed at His Entrance to the Work.

An unknown dramatist came forward last winter with a play that was accounted one of the minor triumphs of the season. The first play of a beginner was acclaimed a remarkable piece of work and there were the customary comments on the excellence of a first play. The justice of this characterization was shown later. The author has had two other works accepted for production during the coming season and last month three others were copy righted at Washington. The drama seen last year was a creditable performance and the author deserved all the credit she got, but it was no more a first play than such pieces usually are.

Clyde Fitch's first play is said to have been produced ten years after he wrote it, and many unsuccessful dramas had intervened before this comedy saw the light. Hugh Davies' "Cousin Kate," which won him his vogue in London, was written after "Cynthia" and "Mrs. Gorringe's Neck-lace."

"The man who feels that he has talent for playwriting," a manager told a reporter recently, "should not give up because his plays are not bought at once. He should keep at work just as steadily as if he expected to sell them as fast as they are finished. The demand for plays is at present so great that he will be able to sell them all after he has made one hit."

"These researches into old dramas are not very likely to bring forth much that is worthy, but I have yet to see the manager who would not take these pieces nor the playwright who would not use them. There is, of course, the money and also the dramatist's confidence in his work. I cannot now recall a case in which the first success was the writer's first play; so the large army of playwrights who expect to come into their own some day should simply keep on the job and write plays as if they had already received their $1,000 in advance royalties."

HAD TASTE FOR MUSIC.

Young Woman's Talent Inherited from Her Grandfather.

George Bernard Shaw, the playwright, has a good deal of contempt for scientists.

"We hold scientists in too high honor," he wrote recently to an American admirer. "We take them too much on faith. We believe every scientific assertion, no matter how incredible it may be."

"And how incredible, how preposterous much of this scientific talk is! There's heredity, for instance. I have seen books on heredity that were about as logical as the remark of an old woman whose daughter played the piano."

"Your daughter plays well," a woman said to her.

"Yes," the old woman replied, "she does have a fine touch, and it's no wonder, for she loves the piano, and never tires of it. Ye see, she's a great taste for music; but, then, that's only natural, for her grandfather had his skull fractured with a cornet at a picnic."

HER EXTRAVAGANT HABITS.

Absence of a Carriage Did Not Keep Mabel Fenton from the Ball.

During the summer months Ross and Fenton, in private life Charles and Mabel Ross, stars in "The Social Whirl" now running at the Casino in New York, reside at their fine place, the Farm, near Asbury Park, N. J.

That is, they go down to their bungalow the c. during the run of the Casino success, from Saturday night till Monday afternoon.

On a recent Saturday night Miss Fenton hurried home and changed her costume to a more elaborate one in order to attend a ball given by friends who have a handsome country home a few miles from the Farm.

Many of the best features of the entertainment were to be held till the late hour she could arrive; but judge of Miss Fenton's chagrin when she learned that it was expected she would go from the depot straight to the ball, and hence, after she had dismissed the carriage that brought her home to dress, she found that no other wheeled vehicle was obtainable.

Just as she was about to despair, an ice wagon going to Asbury before daybreak for that valuable commodity lumbered past the Farm.

Miss Fenton commandeered the vehicle at once. Bribed beyond the dreams of avarice, the driver made record time to the ball, where the arrival of the sumptuously gowned and long-expected guest in such a turnout created a sensation.

Some awed eye-witness ran to tell Mr. Ross the next day.

"What do you think of your wife coming to the ball in an ice wagon?" said the busybody.

"It's just like Mabel," remarked Ross, "always the costliest equipage for her!"

GOSSIPY THEATRICAL NOTES.

William Lamp, seen last in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," will light up the role of Marlin in Wilton Lackaye's production of "The Law and the Man."

Sallie Fisher will play this season in "The Man from Now," in which Harry Belger will star. She appeared last season with Frank Daniels in "Sergeant True."

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard have written a play founded on the historic love tale of Justinian and Theodora. Giles Shine has been secured for the role of Patrick O'Brien in "The Chorus Lady."

"In Command" has been selected as the title of the new musical play by Ben M. Jerome, which will be produced under the direction of the Ben M. Jerome Amusement company. The scene is Panama.

Macklyn Arbuckle, accompanied by many of his original company, will open his fourth season in "The County Chairman" at Pittsburg.

Arrangements are being made whereby Robert Mantell and H. E. Irving will be seen together in a few matinee performances of "Othello," Mr. Irving playing Iago.

Miss Nella Bergen has been engaged by Klaw & Erlanger as prima donna of "The Free Lance." Her new contract with them stipulates that she is also to sing the role of the Princess Yolande when the Sousa opera is produced in London next spring.

TRUTH WAS OUT OF PLACE.

Inane Man Sure It Was Not Wanted in Paris Law Courts.

The Paris law courts witnessed a strange spectacle yesterday evening. One of the officials, after the day's business was over, was astounded to see approaching him in a corridor a man who was quite naked, and who carried his clothing under his arm. "I am Truth," explained the apparition, "as you see by my costume. I understand that truth is sought in the Dreyfus case. Will you take me to the Court of Cassation." The official was about to lead him to the chief of police office, when the man exclaimed, "You cannot deceive Truth. The name of the police office is written over the door. Ah! Truth is not wanted here," he cried, and was in the act of flinging himself through a window, when the official caught him by the left leg, as somebody once caught Old Harry Longlegs, who would not say his prayers. Then the official gave himself up to the spirit of his visitant's madness, offered to show him the court, but took him instead down a staircase to the stores department, where he was cared for till the police arrived.—London Globe.

TRIUMPHED EVEN OVER DEATH.

Remarkable Deed Ascribed to Austrian Bandit of 1680.

Dr. Loye tells the following strange story, taken from the archives of an Austrian police officer, and relating to an execution said to have taken place in Vienna in 1680: A well-known bandit named Schavenburg was caught, together with four of his associates, and they were all condemned to death. They were already on their knees, ready to submit to their fate, when Schavenburg addressed the judge, asking that his four companions might be ranged in single file in front of him at a distance of eight feet from each other.

"If," he said, "after I am beheaded, I get up and walk to the first of my comrades, will you pardon him?"

The judge thought he was pretty safe in complying with the request.

"But if I walk up to the second, the third, and the fourth, will you pardon those also?"

The judge replied that he would obtain their pardon from the emperor. The bandit was satisfied, bent his head, received the mortal blow, and his head rolled down; but to the great surprise of the judge and the spectators, the body got up, walked alone, passed the first, second, third and fourth of the condemned men, and fell down. The occurrence was told to the emperor, who, according to promise, pardoned the four criminals.

California Recovering.

California bank deposits amount to $540,000,000 and the banks in which they are held are credited with assets of $693,000,000. The loss suffered by San Francisco, by the earthquake and fire, was unequaled by any similar catastrophe in the history of the world, but despite its magnitude, some of its appalling force is lost in the contemplation of the financial showing made by the entire state. There is great promise of large crops of grain and fruits, the mines and oil wells are turning out new wealth more rapidly than ever before, and if the insurance companies would pay up their losses and the striking sailors return to work at the highest wages ever paid for similar employment, the Bay City would blossom into its old-time splendor at a rate that would astonish the world.

"Boys Will Be Boys."

"There were a couple of old forty-niners down in Tombstone, Ariz.," said a tourist the other day, "who were great friends. One of them was 80 years old and the other 81. They were taking their morning toddy one day and fell into a disagreement over the date of some pioneer occurrence. Each was insistent upon his own recollection of it, and finally they got into a regular quarrel. Backing away from the bar, they drew their guns and blazed away at each other, but their sight was so dim and their hands so unsteady that all the bullets went wide. When their guns were emptied the barkeep emerged from beneath the counter and made them shake hands and make up. The local paper, the Epitaph, in describing the occurrence, treated it in an indulgent vein and closed by saying: 'Well, boys will be boys.'"

South Africa's Great Men.

Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Beit were equally undemonstrative. A great scheme of Rhodes was once collapsing when Wernher and Beit came to the rescue and saved it. Beit for his firm—Wernher & Beit—took up the obligations. Rhodes said simply: "That's all right," but the following day, as Beit and he stood together at the bar in the Kimberley club, he abruptly asked the steward for half a dozen promissory note forms, signed them in blank and stuffed them into Beit's pocket, saying: "You backed me. If things go wrong, you'll want mine, too." In the success the notes were forgotten by both and were handed back some six months later.

The Best Hamlet.

In his first success at Drury Lane, Edmund Kean overheard a host of old stage carpenters discussing vigorously the various players of Hamlet they had seen in their day. "Well," said one, "you may talk of Henderson and Kemble and this new man, but give me Bancroft's Hamlet—he was always done 30 minutes sooner than any of 'em."

Mordecai Brown, Chicago National League Pitcher.

HISTORY OF STRAIGHT BASEBALL VICTORIES

Chicago's American leaguers broke the great run of consecutive victories made by the New York Giants in 1904 and were within one game of tying the world's major league record made by the Providence Grays in the National league's pennant race of 1884, when the Washington team administered a rude shock by defeating them in a double-header the other day.

Both the Giants and the Orioles were stopped within two games of equalling the record set by Frank Bancroft's Rhode Island team.

An interesting feature of these struggles to equal or better the Providence mark is the fact that the Baltimore and New York records were set ten years apart. The Orioles made theirs ten years after Providence set the pace and New York came along ten years later and tied the Baltimore mark.

Comiskey's men broke through these precedents and only two years after New York's run of 13 straight along came the White Stockings with a run that beat both the Giants and Orioles and was within one of attaining the world's record.

The Orioles in 1894 landed 25 out of 26 games, though their best consecutive run of victories was 18. After winning the 18 straight the Orioles went to Cincinnati where they were beaten, but the succeeding seven games won by the Orioles. Baltimore's percentage for 25 out of 26 was .961.

Charlie Radbourne deserves most of the credit for that winning streak of Providence. Sweetey, who set the world's strikeout record by fanning 15 batters in nine innings in that same season, had deserted the Grays, joining the St. Louis Union, and the bulk of the pitching fell upon Radbourne's shoulders.

Providence's record began on August 7 and the twentieth victory was won on September 6. Three days later—teams did not play every day in those days—Buffalo stopped the victorious run of Grays by beating them 2 to 0, but Bancroft's men moved steadily on to the pennant just the same.

For several seasons Kittredge caught for the Boston Nationals when they had a team of stars including Collins, Stahl, Nichols, Hamilton, Lowe and Tenney. Before that he caught for Chicago. He has been with the Washington club since 1903.

As a member of the firm of Farrell, Keeler & Co., he should be a success in the Eastern league.

GIANTS AND HIGHLANDERS IN POST-SEASON SERIES

The New York Highlanders are going to play the Giants this fall. Of course, there is a proviso attached to this statement. If either New York team wins a pennant it is all off. After the Chicago going that both of the teams passed through, however, there seems to be no danger of a pennant coming here.

John T. Brush, president of the Giants, says he will play, and Owner Frank J. Farrell, of the Highlanders, sends word that if his men can't win the American league pennant he will gladly arrange a series with the Giants.

Farrell has always been willing to play the Giants, but this is the first time that Brush has considered the proposition. When the Giants were winning championships it was not Brush's place to talk of a post season series. Then, again, it will be remembered that it was not until last season that the world's series was played under the direction of the national commission.

There is no reason why the games should not be played. While the championship is more of a local affair, it is worth striving for, as it means much in patronage to the club that wins. In other cities the interleague series are popular.

It is reported that a team representing Wilmington, Del., will be represented in the Tri-State league next season. A franchise is asked for by that town.

OFFICERS AMBUSHED AND KILLED BY NEGROES

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—Despite the peace of the day, the feeling of anxiety felt and expressed by many citizens appears at this hour—10:30 p. m.—to have been realized. Although only meager reports have been received, it is confirmed that three county policemen, riding along their beat in South Atlanta, near Clark University, a well-known negro college, were ambushed from an alley with the result that Policeman Heard and another officer—name not known—were killed and the third officer was shot fatally and is dying at the Grady Hospital.

Still another officer is reported missing. The policemen, who are mounted, with a squad of militiamen, are pursuing the negroes into the woods. The casualties on the other side are not known.

At Howell's Station, three miles west of the center of the city, the railroad operator has been killed, and another man in the same office either has been killed or wounded by negroes.

The city marshal of Edgewood was shot but not seriously hurt while trying to arrest a negro late this evening. Other similar rumors are heard, but lack confirmation.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 25, 1 a. m.—Following the killing of Policeman Heard in South Atlanta tonight, the force which accompanied him and were not disabled in the fight pursued the negroes. They captured ten of the attacking party. Four escaped. Six were put aboard a street car under guard of the police and deputies, and started for the county jail in the center of town. As the car approached 491 Crews street a waiting mob stopped the car. Two of the prisoners, Sam McRaunder and Whey Brooks, made a bold dash for liberty. The mob caught them in the front yard of the home occupied, at the above number, by Mrs. R. C. Thompson, a highly respected white woman. The negroes were cut and beaten and left for dead. Mrs. Thompson, watching the exciting scene from the porch of her home, dropped dead from what is supposed to have been heart disease.

The police force succeeded in bringing the other four negroes to town and they are now locked up in the county jail.

Later it was discovered that McRaunder and Brooks are alive. They were brought to the city and are reported dying.

BANKER STENSLAND ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 25.—Paul O. Stensland of Chicago, bank embezzler, arrived from Tangier yesterday on the steamer Prinz Adelbert, was brought to this city at 6 o'clock tonight from Quarantine and locked up at police headquarters. He was taken to Chicago this morning.

Harry Olsen, Assistant State Attorney of Illinois, who accompanied Stensland, stated that the prisoner had made a confession to him while en route from Tangier.

Theodore Stensland, the banker's son, immediately afterward issued a statement, in which he said that his father would plead guilty to certain of the indictments charging violation of the Illinois State banking laws after he had examined the indictments. He would not plead guilty to forgery, but would reveal everything leading up to the wrecking of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, and in so doing would implicate other men prominent in the financial circles of Chicago.

He added that if there was a shortage of more than $400,000 in the accounts of the bank his father would prove that Cashier Hering was responsible for everything above that amount.

CORNERSTONE LAID WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

At the appointed hour of eleven, Tuesday, was begun by the Masons the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new Methodist church at corner of 14th street and Townsend Ave. Costing 11,000, this is the first pretentious church edifice to be erected in Ada.

Masons from neighboring towns were invited to participate. About fifty strong the members of the order formed line at their hall and marched to the scene of ceremonies, where already were gathered a large number of people. At northwest corner of the building, which is to be the main entrance, near its final resting place lay the stone, a most handsome piece of masonry, a perfect cube of white marble inscribed on one exposed side.

"First M. E. Church, South, 1906

on the other "Building Committee:

J. W. Hays, Frank Jones, John W. Beard, T. L. Rippey."

Hon. Henry M. Furman officiated in the ceremonies. Pastor Rippey read a brief sketch of the progress of the church from its establishment in 1895, through its earlier struggles and later achievements, up to its present flourishing status with a membership of 350.

After an invocation by Grand Chaplain J. M. Martin, Judge Furman prefaced the formal ceremony with some words of explanation pertaining to the ancient custom of Masonic laying of corner stones, which obtains only in case of buildings erected for religious, charitable or educational purposes. Then the grand treasurer was ordered to deposit the archive box in its niche.

The box contained a history of the church, several of the church newspapers, copies of the secular papers of Ada, some small coins, a copy of the new church discipline, a rose and an assortment of cards and memoranda. The cornerstone of the old church will be transplanted to the new and will rest near the stone placed today.

Judge Furman then in an impressive manner poured upon the stone the "corn of nourishment," the "wine of refreshment," and the "oil of joy." Next, after the Masons had given the public grand honors of Masonry, instead of the customary ode all joined in singing "Nearer My God to Thee." This was followed by an appropriate prayer by Rev. C. M. Coppedge, Presiding Elder.

Then followed a beautiful address by Judge Furman. "The laying of corner stones is mankind's oldest custom," said he. Allusions thereto were quoted from the prophets and the audience were clearly informed why it constitutes the principal ceremony of Free Masonry. In eloquent words the speaker elaborated the beautiful symbolism of the ceremony, to the great enlightenment of his hearers.

At the conclusion of the address all joined in singing the Doxology, after which Pastor Rippey pronounced the benediction.

The day was perfect for the outdoor service and the entire program was carried out beautifully. The occasion was one ever to be cherished in the memory of the great congregation of the First M. E. church, South.

NOMINATIONS MADE IN 11 DELEGATE DISTRICTS

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 25.—Up to the present time eleven of the men who have been nominated by the two great parties as candidates to the constitutional convention, have been selected by the people. Conventions are being held nearly every day, and other delegates chosen to represent their parties at the polls on November 6.

At Prague, O. T., J. M. Sandlin was nominated by the Democrats from the Twenty-second district. Mr. Sandlin is city attorney of Prague. The towns of Meeker, Stroud, Prague and East Parks participated.

In the Osage nation, which has two delegates, the Republicans nominated I. D. Taylor of Pawhuska and Frank A. Denoya of Remington. Taylor is an attorney who represented the Osage nation in Washington last winter and Denoya is a banker.

At Milhall, in the Twenty-fourth district, the Republicans nominated Dan Holiday, of Crescent City on the eighth ballot. In a convention held in the Forty-third district, the Democrats gave the nomination to David Hogg of Grand. Hogg was representative from the Eighth district to the last legislature.

The main questions dealt with in the Democratic platform were the school land and negro problems. The platform designated the Republicans as carpetbaggers and favored separate schools.

The Democrats at Chandler in the Twenty-third district nominated J. B. A. Robertson of Chandler. Colonel J. F. Morris of Pawnee was nominated by the Republicans of the Eighteenth constitutional district.

In Dewey county, comprising the Forty-second district, W. R. Meyers of Taloga was selected. At Pauls Valley, Mrs. Lasater defeated E. E. Akire for the Democratic nomination from the Ninety-fourth district.

BUSINESS CLASS WANTS THE ISLAND ANNEXED

Havana, Sept. 25.—All classes are now waiting for the conditions under which tranquility likely will be restored in Cuba, and a disappointment is expressed on the side because of the likelihood of being brought about without armed American intervention. That difference of the opposing factions could be reconciled was not generally believed until today, when it was announced that the liberals and the insurgents had empowered a committee to report them before the American mediators.

It is evident that the business interests of the island have no confidence in the ability of the Cubans to rule themselves, and now, when it appears too late, they are openly favoring forcible intervention and possibly annexation. Secretary of War Taft is cognizant of this general opinion that peace cannot last unless it is enforced by an American army, but he considers that it is the duty of the United States to give the Republic another chance and believes that it would be bad policy for the United States to keep a force in Cuba longer than was required to supervise the laying down of arms. He said today that if the Liberals and Moderates harmonize their differences the United States must regard the compact as made in good faith.

That peace will come as the result of the mediation of the United States is now believed by Cubans, regardless of party affiliation, but whether it will be on terms which will insure permanent tranquility is a question.

Havana, Sept. 25.—Victory for Liberals or revolutionary party seems certain after the conclusion of a long conference last night between a committee of the insurgents, of eight members, and the American peace commissioners. The insurgent committee announced there was practically no difference remaining between them and Messrs Taft and Bacon, and that they would receive a draft of the peace plans today. These probably would be agreed to at a meeting to be held in the Presidio, where the prisoners who are members of the committee are

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the controller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

ROOSEVELT'S DUDE OUTFIT

Young Fellows from New York Who Didn't Take with the Cowboy.

"It was in 1885 that I first saw Roosevelt," says H. W. Otis, of Peshawar, Wash., in Success Magazine. "That was the year he established his ranch in the Bad Lands of Dakota and Nebraska. Had I known that young fellow was booked for the presidency of the United States I certainly would have cultivated his acquaintance more than I did."

"The most conspicuous parts of him then, as now, were his glasses and his big teeth. I remember his advent into camp and his initiation as a cowboy. It is always the custom to get, for the tenderfoot to ride the worst broncho obtainable. Roosevelt, on getting astride the wild horse, was mighty soon dumped off. He was thrown time and time again, but persisted until he succeeded in breaking the animal to ride, and when he came back to camp he let out a war whoop worthy of a true buckaroo. That experience gained for him the respect of the older cowboys, who looked with aughty disdain upon a tenderfoot."

"There were five or six young fellows from New York with Roosevelt, and we called them 'the dude outfit.' I have no doubt President Roosevelt will remember an incident which occurred in camp one day on the round-up. We had in our gang a wild, reckless fellow named Bill Jones. Bill had killed another man's dog. One of the New Yorkers said: 'I'd like to see that Bill Jones kill a dog of mine.' 'Well,' said Bill, who chanced to hear the remark, 'you just play for a few minutes that it was your dog that Bill Jones killed.' The young New Yorker concluded that he did not care to have anything to do with suppositious cases—at least he remained in the tent."

SWEDE A MEDICAL WONDER

Man Whose Main Diet Is Apples Paddles Canoe from Stockholm to Paris.

Paris.—Medical men now are occupied with the case of Gustav Nordin, a hardy Swede, who paddled his own canoe from Stockholm to Paris and reached here in robust health after the long voyage during which he lived on apples, milk, water and bread.

The Swede states that he undertook the dangerous and arduous voyage to show what could be done by a man who has given up meat, tea, coffee, wine, beer, spirits and tobacco. He prides himself in eclipsing vegetarians and returning to the system that is termed natural alimentation.

Nordin agreed to allow the doctors to draw some blood from his legs and arms for the purpose of analysis. He states that when in America at the age of 18 he found he could not eat ordinary food and was suffering, so he began a diet of fruit, principally apples, on which he thrived and became the robust person he is to-day.

GIVES CASH FOR HER PETS

Actress Bequeaths $15,000 for Care of Animals at Death—Were Her Only Companions.

New York.—The fact that Cecilia A. Wolsey, who was formerly a performer on the vaudeville stage under the name of Lillian Western, bequeathed $15,000 for the care of her dog, parrot and a cage of love birds, became known when her will was filed. Harriet E. Gates, a friend of the dead woman, is charged with the care of the animals, and Miss Wolsey's will provides that she shall have the use of the $15,000 for that purpose. After the death of Mrs. Gates the will stipulates that the remainder of the money shall go to the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to care for Miss Wolsey's pets if they outlive Mrs. Gates and, if not, to care for other homeless animals.

Miss Wolsey was a "musical specialist" of the vaudeville stage and retired from it a year ago, having only her pets as companions.

ENGLISH WOMEN UNTIDY.

Oriental Artist Declares Their Gait Is Ungainly and Their Figures Out of Poise.

London.—Yoshio Markino, a Japanese artist at present in this country, deplores the ungainly carriage of the Englishwoman.

"The London ladies have such nice faces and such pretty figures. How sad it is that they carry themselves so badly!" is his criticism.

"I walk up and down this great city," he continued, "I notice that the ladies are so awkward. Their arms are huddled up, their elbows are too much in evidence, the skirt is caught up untidily by one hand, throwing the whole figure out of poise."

"I believe the reason is that everybody in this country is too active, too much in a hurry—not only the men who work, but the women also. How long can one be graceful under these circumstances? The women of my country are so happy and peaceful. They are never in haste."

As to dress, Mr. Markino said: "The ladies of England are too fond of fashion. They copy the ladies of France. What will suit a Frenchwoman I do not like these short sleeves. They are out of place. I see a smart girl with a short sleeve. She seems to say to me: 'See, now, I am ready to do the scrubbing.'"

Another point which astounds him is the assurance of the English girl.

"She walks along with her head in the air, so haughty," Mr. Markino said. "She is afraid of nothing. In our country to do so would not be modest. Our women go always with eyes cast to the ground. They are content to be women. They do not care to be 'miss outlins.'"

Cherry Cakes.

Make a dainty confection for serving at an afternoon reception which will rival the best goods of the caterer. Cream one pound of butter with half a pound of coarse powdered sugar. Add the yolks of ten eggs beaten and one and a half pounds of pastry flour and a half pound of sifted baking powder. Add a little milk and the beaten whites. Chop fine one-half pound of crystallized cherries and one-fourth pound of angelica and stir in the last thing. Bake in small patty pans in a fairly quick oven. Cool on a sieve and dip the top of each one in a thin boiled icing which you have flavored with maraschino. Put a cherry on the top of each and three leaves of angelica.

BRAND OF TAILLESS PIG.

Pioneer of Montana Recalls a Feat of Sharpshooting in the Early Days.

Looking over a brand register the other day reminded me of an event which occurred at Fort Benton in 1886," said the Montana pioneer to a group of friends at Helena. "The story serves to illustrate two things—first the unerring accuracy of Al. B. Hamilton's aim, and again the expedients that are resorted to in order to procure an original brand."

"Hamilton was the first justice of the peace in northern Montana. His commission was issued by Gen. Thomas Francis Meagher, the leader of the famous civil war Irish brigade who was then acting as governor of the territory of Montana. Hamilton had charge of the American Fur company's post at Fort Benton, and the feat to which I shall refer may have had something to do with his election as sheriff of Chouteau county in later years."

"I have heard of cattlemen using a frying-pan, railroad fish plates and other unusual shapes in metals as branding irons, but, after all, I think Hamilton's was perhaps the most original."

The company by which Hamilton was employed had about 35 head of hogs that were continually getting mixed up with the porkers belonging to others, and he determined to put a brand upon his animals that would prevent any chance of mistaken identity.

"With some little difficulty Hamilton got all the company's hogs in an enclosure, went to the office secured his 44 revolver and a supply of cartridges and seated himself on the fence surrounding the pigs. Without getting closer than ten feet to a single one of the animals, Hamilton in the course of perhaps 15 minutes had shot the tail from each. He did not waste more than half a dozen shots in doing it nor was a single hog injured save that its tail had been clipped off clean. That feat gave him the title of champion shot of the territory."

All Used Up

Again Claims Right to Talk Government Ownership.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 25.—William J. Bryan, speaking here yesterday, defended his right to express what opinion his conscience dictated upon the Government ownership of railroads. He touched upon the Cuban situation and gave arguments used throughout his Southern trip to show that the Republican party has adopted Democratic principles. A feature of Mr. Bryan's reception was a banquet in his honor where party lines were thrown aside, and was introduced by a leading member of the Louisiana Republican club.

BALL PLAYERS' ARMS ARE GOOD BAROMETERS

"A veteran pitcher who has seen service in a good league for several seasons doesn't need a barometer to tell him the weather is going to change," says "Tacks" Parrott, the old-time twirler. "His pitching arm will tell him about the coming change. It isn't that I am subject to rheumatism," he continued, "for I am not, but I'll bet that every old pitcher is affected every time the weather is preparing to change."

Mike Kahoe, the well-known catcher, declares that the old catchers can also give a pretty fair line on the weather by the feeling in their throwing arms. "I never had even a twinge any place until after several years' catching. Then my arm and shoulder got so that every time the weather changed I would get a notification of the impending transition several hours in advance of the occurrence."

"I consulted a physician, who said the pains were not caused by rheumatism, as that affection always comes in the joints. The only way I can account for it is the contraction and expansion of the muscles by the weather."

torious run of Grays by beating them 3 to 0, but Bancroft's men moved steadily on to the pennant just the same.

Several members of the championship team Bancroft had at Providence are known in baseball history as stars. Radbourne, of course, was one of the greatest box artists ever known and to the mind of Frank Bancroft his equal has never yet been seen. Paul Hines played center field in those days for the Grays. Hines is famous for having made a triple play, unassisted, in 1878, the only one on record until O'Hagen was credited with turning the same trick in Jersey City a couple of years ago. Denny played third base for the Grays, Paul Radford was in the right garden, Gilligan caught Radbourne, and Start, once with the Chicago Nationals, was on first. Other members of that famous team were Carroll, who played left, Nava, who did the work in the short field.

This record of 20 straight is only a major league record. The world's record for consecutive victories is held by the Corsicana club of the Texas league, with a total of 27, made in 1902. Corsicana's record beat a previous mark of 24, made by the Houston (Tex.) team in 1898, and of 25, made by the Charlotte (N. C.) team in May, 1902. In 1903 the Jersey City club of the Eastern league made a run of 24 consecutive victories.

KITTREDGE QUILTS MAJOR LEAGUE GAME FOR GOOD

Malachi Kittredge, the veteran catcher, who has been released by the Washington club, says he is through with the big leagues. Kittredge has been a thrifty player, and he has bought an interest in the Montreal club of the Eastern club from Farrell.

Kittredge will act as team manager. He is still a good catcher, and will make his regular turn behind the bat.

"Kit" has been in big league harness for a good many years, with the exception of the time he undertook to make a financial winner of the old Worcester club a few years ago. Worcester

National League.

"Pop" Anson picks the Cubs to win the National league pennant. There are others who readily agree with him. Catcher Al Shaw, of Louisville, bought by Pittsburgh, will report at the close of the American association season.

Mullin, who has had a couple of tries in last company, has been signed by the Giants. He will not work till next season.

Fred Miller, a giant left hander from Kentucky, is the latest acquisition to Pittsburgh's pitching staff.

Carl Rothgeb, the former Chicago National league ball player has gone to Fort Collins, Col., to become athletic director of the Colorado agricultural college. He has been drafted by the Philadelphia Nationals, but may give up professional playing.

Bert Maxwell, one of the leading pitchers of the Southern league this year and former member of the University of Kansas ball squad, has been sold by Montgomery to the Pittsburgh Nationals. Maxwell has won a majority of games pitched this year.

The average number of points between first place and the tail in 12 professional leagues is 291. The most scattering race of the 12 is in the National league, where, on Monday last, there was a difference of 370 points. At that time there were 308 points difference in the American league, 559 in the American association, 340 in the Central league, 283 in the South Atlantic, 269 in the Northern Copper, 353 in the Western, 238 in the Killy, 243 in the Eastern, 212 in the Three Eye, 296 in the Ohio-Pennsylvania, and 319 in the Southern.

American League.

Cleveland's new outfielder is already having his troubles. He has played only three games, and his name has already gone out in the press scores as Coffin, Coffyn, Coffryn, Chafeyne, Coffryn and Coffin.

Louis Brockett, a pitcher of the Buffalo baseball club, has been sold to the New York American league club. He will not leave Buffalo until the end of the Eastern league season.

There are only 14 players in the American league who have escaped injury this season. Football never claimed such a rich harvest.

This has been Waddell's poorest season in years. The once great Rube has not been just right, bad hands hampering him materially.

Cleveland pulled off a triple play the other day. Turner engineering it. That made three for the two big leagues this season.

The Milwaukee club has sold Pitcher Frank Oberlin to the Boston club for $3,000, and Outfielder Sullivan, of the Minneapolis team, has been purchased by the same team for $2,500.

Pitcher Cloutte, of the Des Moines baseball team, has been sold to the Detroit team.

Announcement has been made that the St. Louis Americans had drafted Paul Davidson, the fast outfielder with Dubuque, of the Three Eye league.

Among the Minors.

There is a lot of money wrapped up in some crack ball players. Frequently a small fortune is netted by the sale of one player who ranks head and shoulders above his mates. "Heine" Berger, of Columbus, sold to

"Heine" Berger.

Cleveland for $6,500, is one of the select few. Besides costing the Cleveland club a high purchase price, he will draw $3,200 a year salary.

The Erie Interstate league team defeated the Pittsburgh National leaguers by the score of 4 to 3.

A number of big league managers are keeping Pitcher Tozer, of the Buffalo club under surveillance. He is a steady winner and has speed.

Second Baseman Knabe, of the American association, will in all probability be the next player to be sold to faster company. He is a star in his position.

President O'Brien, of the American association, has suspended Manager Canillon and Pitcher Hynes, of the Milwaukee team, pending an investigation of the case in which the Milwaukee baseball men are alleged to have assaulted a spectator after the latter had thrown a missile at Third Baseman Clark, who muffed a fly in a game the other day.

MISS MAUDE FEALY, Who Will be Seen in New York This Season.

"FIRST PLAY" A MISNOMER.

Rarely Does a Dramatist Succeed at His Entrance to the Work.

An unknown dramatist came forward last winter with a play that was accounted one of the minor triumphs of the season. The first play of a beginner was acclaimed a remarkable piece of work and there were the customary comments on the excellence of a first play. The justice of this characterization was shown later. The author has had two other works accepted for production during the coming season and last month three others were copy righted at Washington. The drama seen last year was a creditable performance and the author deserved all the credit she got, but it was no more a first play than such pieces usually are.

Clyde Fitch's first play is said to have been produced ten years after he wrote it, and many unsuccessful dramas had intervened before this comedy saw the light. Hugh Davies' "Cousin Kate," which won him his vogue in London, was written after "Cynthia" and "Mrs. Goring's Neck-lace."

"The man who feels that he has talent for playwriting," a manager told a reporter recently, "should not give up because his plays are not bought at once. He should keep at work just as steadily as if he expected to sell them as fast as they are finished. The demand for plays is at present so great that he will be able to sell them all after he has made one hit."

"These researches into old dramas are not very likely to bring forth much that is worthy, but I have yet to see the manager who would not take these pieces nor the playwright who would not use them. There is, of course, the money and also the dramatist's confidence in his work. I cannot now recall a case in which the first success was the writer's first play; so the large army of playwrights who expect to come into their own some day should simply keep on the job and write plays as if they had already received their $1,000 in advance royalties."

HAD TASTE FOR MUSIC.

Young Woman's Talent Inherited from Her Grandfather.

George Bernard Shaw, the playwright, has a good deal of contempt for scientists.

"We hold scientists in too high honor," he wrote recently to an American admirer. "We take them too much on faith. We believe every scientific assertion, no matter how incredible it may be."

"And how incredible, how preposterous much of this scientific talk is! There's heredity, for instance. I have seen books on heredity that were about as logical as the remark of an old woman whose daughter played the piano."

"Your daughter plays well," a woman said to her.

"Yes," the old woman replied, "she does have a fine touch, and it's no wonder, for she loves the piano, and never tires of it. Ye see, she's a great taste for music; but, then, that's only natural, for her grandfather had his skull fractured with a cornet at a picnic."

HER EXTRAVAGANT HABITS.

Absence of a Carriage Did Not Keep Mabel Fenton from the Ball.

During the summer months Ross and Fenton, in private life Charles and Mabel Ross, stars in "The Social Whirl" now running at the Casino in New York, reside at their fine place, the Farm, near Asbury Park, N. J.

That is, they go down to their bungalow the 6, during the run of the Casino success, from Saturday night till Monday afternoon.

On a recent Saturday night Miss Fenton hurried home and changed her costume to a more elaborate one in order to attend a ball given by friends who have a handsome country home a few miles from the Farm.

Many of the best features of the entertainment were to be held till the late hour she could arrive; but judge of Miss Fenton's chagrin when she learned that it was expected she would go from the depot straight to the ball, and hence, after she had dismissed the carriage that brought her home to dress, she found that no other wheeled vehicle was obtainable.

Just as she was about to despair, an ice wagon going to Asbury before daybreak for that valuable commodity lumbered past the Farm.

Miss Fenton commandeered the vehicle at once. Bribed beyond the dreams of avarice, the driver made record time to the ball, where the arrival of the sumptuously gowned and long-expected guest in such a turnout created a sensation.

Some awed eye-witness ran to tell Mr. Ross the next day.

"What do you think of your wife coming to the ball in an ice wagon?" said the busybody.

"It's just like Mabel," remarked Ross, "always the costliest equipage for her!"

GOSSIPY THEATRICAL NOTES.

William Lamp, seen last in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," will light up the role of Marlin in Wilton Lackaye's production of "The Law and the Man."

Sallie Fisher will play this season in "The Man from Now," in which Harry Bniger will star. She appeared last season with Frank Daniels in "Sergeant True."

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Hubbard have written a play founded on the historic love tale of Justinian and Theodora. Giles Shine has been secured for the role of Patrick O'Brien in "The Chorus Lady."

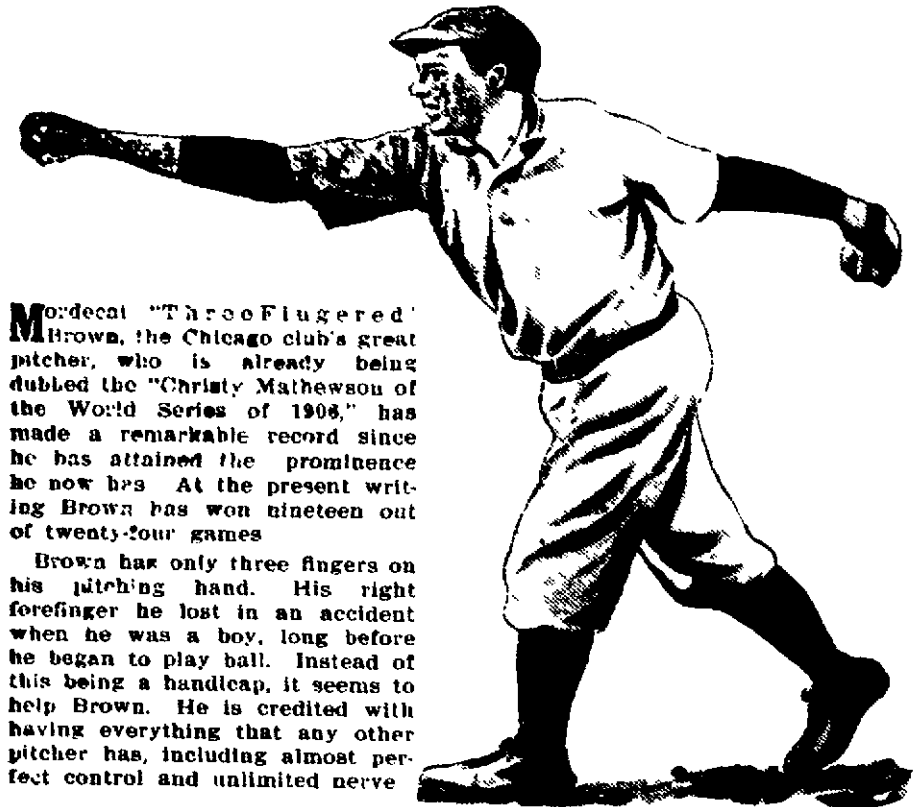

"In Command" has been selected as the title of the new musical play by Ben M. Jerome, which will be produced under the direction of the Ben M. Jerome Amusement company. The scene is Panama.

Machya Arbuckle, accompanied by many of his original company, will open his fourth season in "The County Chairman" at Pittsburgh.

Arrangements are being made whereby Robert Mantell and H. B. Irving will be seen together in a few matinee performances of "Othello," Mr. Irving playing Iago.

Miss Nella Bergen has been re-engaged by Klaw & Erlanger as prima donna of "The Free Lance." Her new contract with them stipulates that she is also to sing the role of the Princess Yolande when the Sousa opera is produced in London next spring.

HISTORY OF STRAIGHT (BASEBALL VICTORIES)

Chicago's American leaguers broke the great run of consecutive victories made by the New York Giants in 1904 and were within one game of tying the world's major league record made by the Providence Grays in the National league's pennant race of 1884, when the Washington team administered a rude shock by defeating them in a double-header the other day.

Both the Giants and the Orioles were stopped within two games of equaling the record set by Frank Bancroft's Rhode Island team.

An interesting feature of these struggles to equal or better the Providence mark is the fact that the Baltimore and New York records were set ten years apart. The Orioles made theirs ten years after Providence set the pace and New York came along ten years later and tied the Baltimore mark.

Comiskey's men broke through these precedents and only two years after New York's run of 18 straight along come the White Stockings with a run that beat both the Giants and Orioles and was within one of attaining the world's record.

The Orioles in 1894 landed 25 out of 26 games, though their best consecutive run of victories was 18. After winning the 18 straight the Orioles went to Cincinnati where they were beaten, but the succeeding seven games won by the Orioles. Baltimore's percentage for 25 out of 26 was .961.

Charlie Radbourne deserves most of the credit for that winning streak of Providence. Sweeney, who set the world's strikeout record by fanning 19 batsmen in nine innings in that same season, had deserted the Grays, joining the St. Louis Union, and the bulk of the pitching fell upon Radbourne's shoulders.

Providence's record began on August 7 and the twentieth victory was won on September 6. Three days later teams did not play every day in those days—Buffalo stopped the vic-center being his home. He soon returned to the big leagues.

For several seasons Kittredge caught for the Boston Nationals when they had a team of stars including Collins, Stahl, Nichols, Hamilton, Lowe and Tenney. Before that he caught for Chicago. He has been with the Washington club since 1903.

As a member of the firm of Farrell, Keeler & Co., he should be a success in the Eastern league.

GIANTS AND HIGHLANDERS IN POST-SEASON SERIES

The New York Highlanders are going to play the Giants this fall. Of course, there is a proviso attached to this statement. If either New York team wins a pennant it is all off. After the Chicagoing that both of the teams passed through, however, there seems to be no danger of a pennant coming here.

John T. Brush, president of the Giants, says he will play, and Owner Frank J. Farrell, of the Highlanders, sends word that if his men can't win the American league pennant he will gladly arrange a series with the Giants.

Farrell has always been willing to play the Giants, but this is the first time that Brush has considered the proposition. When the Giants were winning championships it was not Brush's place to talk of a post season series. Then, again, it will be remembered that it was not until last season that the world's series was played under the direction of the national commission.

There is no reason why the games should not be played. While the championship is more of a local affair, it is worth striving for, as it means much in patronage to the club that wins. In other cities the interleague series are popular.

It is reported that a team representing Wilmington, Del., will be represented in the Tri-State league next season. A franchise is asked for by that town.

TRUTH WAS OUT OF PLACE. Inmate Man Sure It Was Not Wanted in Paris Law Courts.

The Paris law courts witnessed a strange spectacle yesterday evening. One of the officials, after the day's business was over, was astounded to see approaching him in a corridor a man who was quite naked, and who carried his clothing under his arm. "I am Truth," explained the apparition, "as you see by my costume. I understand that truth is sought in the Dreyfus case. Will you take me to the Court of Cassation." The official was about to lead him to the chief of police office, when the man exclaimed, "You cannot deceive Truth. The name of the police office is written over the door. Ah! Truth is not wanted here," he cried, and was in the act of flinging himself through a window, when the official caught him by the left leg, as somebody once caught Old Harry Longlegs, who would not say his prayers. Then the official gave himself up to the spirit of his visitant's madness, offered to show him the court, but took him instead down a staircase to the stores department, where he was cared for till the police arrived.—London Globe.

TRIUMPHED EVEN OVER DEATH.

Remarkable Deed Ascribed to Austrian Bandit of 1880.

Dr. Loye tells the following strange story, taken from the archives of an Austrian police officer, and relating to an execution said to have taken place in Vienna in 1880: A well-known bandit named Schavenburg was caught, together with four of his associates, and they were all condemned to death. They were already on their knees, ready to submit to their fate, when Schavenburg addressed the judge, asking that his four companions might be ranged in single file in front of him at a distance of eight feet from each other.

"If," he said, "after I am beheaded, I get up and walk to the first of my comrades, will you pardon him?"

The judge thought he was pretty safe in complying with the request. "But if I walk up to the second, the third, and the fourth, will you pardon those also?"

The judge replied that he would obtain their pardon from the emperor. The bandit was satisfied, bent his head, received the mortal blow, and his head rolled down; but to the great surprise of the judge and the spectators, the body got up, walked alone, passed the first, second, third and fourth of the condemned men, and fell down. The occurrence was told to the emperor, who, according to promise, pardoned the four criminals.

California Recovering.

California bank deposits amount to $540,000,000 and the banks in which they are held are credited with assets of $693,000,000. The loss suffered by San Francisco, by the earthquake and fire, was unequaled by any similar catastrophe in the history of the world, but despite its magnitude, some of its appalling force is lost in the contemplation of the financial showing made by the entire state. There is great promise of large crops of grain and fruits, the mines and oil wells are turning out new wealth more rapidly than ever before, and if the insurance companies would pay up their losses and the striking sailors return to work at the highest wages ever paid for similar employment, the Bay City would blossom into its old-time splendor at a rate that would astonish the world.

"Boys Will Be Boys."

"There were a couple of old forty-niners down in Tombstone, Ariz.," said a tourist the other day, "who were great friends. One of them was 80 years old and the other 81. They were taking their morning toddy one day and fell into a disagreement over the date of some pioneer occurrence. Each was insistent upon his own recollection of it, and finally they got into a regular quarrel. Backing away from the bar, they drew their guns and blazed away at each other, but their sight was so dim and their hands so unsteady that all the bullets went wide. When their guns were emptied the barkeep emerged from beneath the counter and made them shake hands and make up. The local paper, the Epitaph, in describing the occurrence, treated it in an indulgent vein and closed by saying: 'Well, boys will be boys.'"

South Africa's Great Men.

Cecil Rhodes and Alfred Beit were equally undemonstrative. A great scheme of Rhodes was once collapsing when Werner and Beit came to the rescue and saved it. Beit for his arm—Werner & Beit—took up the obligations. Rhodes said simply: "That's all right," but the following day, as Beit and he stood together at the bar in the Kimberley club, he abruptly asked the steward for half a dozen promissory note forms, signed them in blank and stuffed them into Beit's pocket, saying: "You backed me, if things go wrong, you'll want mine, too." In the success the notes were forgotten by both and were handed back some six months later.

The Best Hamlet.

In his first success at Drury Lane, Edmund Kean overheard a host of old stage carpenters discussing vigorously the various players of Hamlet they had seen in their day. "Well," said one, "you may talk of Henderson and Kemble and this new man, but give me Bancroft's Hamlet—he was always done 30 minutes sooner than any of 'em."
